QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Does the Class Action Complaint state a claim for relief under the FDCPA under applicable Rule 12(b)(6) standards?

Plaintiff answers: Yes.

2. Should this Court exercise its discretion to decline to exercise its acknowledged supplemental jurisdiction over the parallel state RCPA claim under 28 U.S.C. § 1367?

Plaintiff answers: No.

3. Do the uncontested factual allegations of the Class Action Complaint, together with the facts attested to in the attached Declaration of Andrew J. McGuinness, adequately demonstrate that there is $5 million in controversy, such that this Court has original jurisdiction under CAFA (independently of supplemental jurisdiction), under the applicable Rule 12(b)(1) standards?

Plaintiff answers: Yes.

4. If this Court were to decide (i) to decline to exercise its acknowledged supplemental jurisdiction over the RCPA claim as Defendants request; and (ii) that the factual allegations -- viewed together with Defendant Orlans PC's employee declaration and publicly-available data showing over 40,000 foreclosures by advertisement processed by Orlans PC over the Class Period -- do not permit the Court to conclude that Plaintiff has adequately alleged the $5 million amount-in-controversy threshold of CAFA, should the Court dismiss this action rather than take that part of the Motion under advisement pending discovery?

Plaintiff answers: No.

Introduction

If the FDCPA makes one thing clear, it is that debt collectors must be circumspect in the way they choose to communicate with debtors. This is a highly regulated industry, and strict compliance is the order of the day.

Thompke v. Fabrizio & Brook, P.C., 261 F. Supp. 3d 798, 811(E.D. Mich. 2017)

(Lawson, J.) (denying motion to dismiss in attorney letterhead case against foreclosure law firm).

Background

Plaintiff alleges two fair debt statutory claims, one under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), 15 U.S.C. § 1692, et seq., and one under the Michigan Regulation of Collection Practices Act (RCPA), MCL § 445.251, et seq. These claims are each based on form letters sent to Mr. Garland and other putative class members on Orleans PC letterhead. Mr. Garland's letter from Orleans PC was dated May 18, 2017, and the first page of it is attached as Exhibit A to the complaint. Plaintiff's principal claim is that defendants send out foreclosure notices appearing to be from attorneys (or susceptible of that interpretation) that are instead processed by non-attorney staff and mailed without meaningful attorney review. Plaintiff and the class seek only statutory damages. Cmplt. at 21, 24. Defendants are Michigan's second-largest foreclosure law firm and its two principal owners and executives. Cmplt. ¶¶ 13-14, 17-21, 23-27, 83-89.

The complaint alleges an RCPA Subclass of homeowners who were sent foreclosure letters by Defendants since April 17, 2011:

All persons to whom Orlans PC caused to be sent any version of the Orlans PC Foreclosure Letter in connection with mortgages conveyed for residential real property located in Michigan, dated on or after April 17, 2011, which was not returned as undelivered by the U.S. Post Office, through the date that the Court issues an order certifying any class requiring notice in this matter, and through the date of entry of final judgment as to any class for which notice is not required under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23.

Cmplt. ¶ 94 (emphasis added).

The complaint uses the descriptive term “Orlans PC Foreclosure Letter” to categorize Garland’s foreclosure letter from Orlans PC¹ along with those sent to tens of thousands of other homeowners. As listed in the complaint, these letters:

- a. [Were] on firm letterhead;
- b. Displayed Linda Orlans’ and Alison Orlans’ surname;
- c. Identified Orlans PC’s client as the creditor or servicing agent;
- d. Indicated that Orlans PC was a law firm retained to foreclose the debtor’s mortgage;
- e. Did not disclaim that [they were] from an attorney;
- f. [Were] (with rare exception) unsigned by an individual Orlans PC lawyer; and
- g. Contained the typographic text “Orlans Associates, P.C.” or “Orlans Associates PC” or “Orlans PC” at the end of the letter in the signature block.

Cmplt. ¶ 41. See also id. ¶ 51 (emphasis added) (“The Garland Foreclosure Letter is a form letter, in that it was generated based on a standard form letter used by Orlans PC to initiate correspondence with homeowners whose mortgages Orlans PC had been retained to foreclose. This form letter (as distinct from Exhibits A and B, which comprise an instance of it) is referred to herein as the “Orlans PC Foreclosure Letter.”); id. ¶ 52 (describing the Garland letter as an “example”); id. ¶ 54(e) (Orlans PC Foreclosure Letters “[h]a[ve] contained other boilerplate text specified by the client”).

On July 18, 2018, defendants filed a motion to dismiss this action (“Motion”) on jurisdictional grounds under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(1) (subject matter jurisdiction), and for failure to state a claim under Rule 12(b)(6). ECF #7. Plaintiff has filed a motion to strike the Motion, which is pending. ECF # 11.

Defendants attached a Declaration of Scott Orlando as Exhibit 3 to the Motion. ECF# 7-4. According to Mr. Orlando, he works “on behalf of” Orlans PC. Id. ¶ 1. He labels himself a “software architect,” whatever that is. Ibid. He says he bases his declaration “on an electronic search of the books and records of Orlans PC,” id. ¶ 2, but does not: describe the search; identify who performed it; identify the “books and records” searched; identify who determined which books and records to search; identify who designed the search; or state that he supervised any of this.

Orlando defines “Orland PC Foreclosure Letter” differently from the complaint:

As used herein, the term “Orlans PC Foreclosure Letter” refers to the form of letter attached as Exhibit A to Plaintiff Freddie Garland’s Complaint that were sent by Orlans PC on behalf of Orlans PC’s clients, including, but not limited to Wells Fargo Home Mortgage Inc.

Orlando Decl. ¶ 3. Mr. Orlando does not define the term “Orlans PC,” or specify whether he included letters sent by the firm’s predecessor(s), including Orlans & Associates, PC.

Mr. Orlando avers that “Orlans PC” sent 7,881 letters as he defines them from April 2011 “to the present.” Id. ¶ 4.

The complaint alleges that “[i]n Michigan, the vast majority of Orlans PC’s foreclosures have been pursuant to Michigan’s foreclosure by advertisement statute, M.C.L. § 600.3201, et seq.” Cmplt ¶ 40. Defendants in the Motion do not challenge this allegation or offer any contrary evidence. The complaint further alleges that “in each foreclosure by advertisement proceeding in Michigan handled by Orlans PC since at least 2011, Orlans PC has sent a letter to the debtor/mortgagor in substantial conformity with Exhibits A and B” to the complaint.” Cmplt. ¶ 41. Defendants do not directly challenge this allegation in the Motion.

As this Court is well aware, foreclosure by advertisement requires the publication of a scheduled sheriff’s sale for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper in the county in which the property is located. M.C.L. § 600.3208. Most foreclosure law firms cause foreclosure advertisements to be published in the Detroit Legal News or one of its affiliated newspapers. The complaint alleges that “[b]ased on publicly-available data, including records of the number of foreclosure advertisements posted in Michigan by Orlans PC since April 17, 2011, . . . the RCPA class comprises some 40,000 members.” Cmplt. ¶ 98. Attached as Exh. 1 to the Declaration of Andrew J. McGuinness, Exhibit A hereto, is a listing of the 40,050 persons and addresses in Michigan associated with foreclosures by advertisements first published between April 21, 2011, and May 17, 2018, returned with a search term of “Orlans” in the “law firm” search field. This figure of 40,500 significantly undercounts the size of the RCPA class, since Orlans sent a single letter to a couple at the target property when it sent foreclosure letters (see, e.g., Cmplt. Exh. A, letter addressed to “Freddie Garland and Linda Garland”). This single letter gives rise to fair debt claims by two people in this circumstance, but would only result in a single advertisement for the property.²

² According to the National Association of Realtors’ Research Department, sixty-six percent of recent homebuyers are married. Home Buyer and Seller Generational Trends Report, 2017, accessible at: www.nar.realtor/sites/default/files/reports/2017/2017-home-buyer-and-seller-generational-trends-03-07-2017.pdf (last accessed 8/29/18). If sixty-six of the 40,050 foreclosure advertisements/letters were for properties owned by couples, a more accurate estimate of the RCPA class size would be 66,780 ($40,050 \times .66 = 26,730$; $40,050 + 26,730 = 66,780$). This figure is approximately three times the number of class members necessary to establish the CAFA jurisdictional minimum (22,495), as set forth infra.

The FDCPA claims alleged in the complaint provide a maximum recovery of $501,000 ($1,000 statutory damages for named plaintiff and another $500,000 for other class members if the Defendants have a net worth of $50,000,000 or more). 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(B). Defendants’ potential $501,000 exposure under the FDCPA is not dependent on class size.

The complaint alleges willful violation of the RCPA by defendants. Cmplt. ¶¶ 70-82. Under the RCPA, class members may recover up to $50 statutory damages for ordinary violations, and an additional $150 “civil fine” for willful violations, for a total of $200 each. See M.C.L. § 445.257 (1) & (2). Cmplt. ¶ 132.

CAFA requires at least $5 million in controversy as one of its jurisdictional requirements (the only element challenged in the Motion). 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2). Deducting the maximum $501,000 FDCPA damages from this threshold, a putative RCPA class size of 22,495 or more members would supply the additional $4,449,000 statutory damages required to establish CAFA original jurisdiction (not counting recoverable attorneys’ fees and costs) ($$4,449,000 \div $200 = 22,495$ RCPA class members required).

Argument

I. THE COMPLAINT STATES A FDCPA ATTORNEY LETTERHEAD CLAIM.

The FDCPA provides that “[a] debt collector may not use any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692e. Defendants do not challenge their status as debt collectors in the Motion. The question arises, was the letter that Orlans PC sent to Mr. Garland “in connection with the collection of any debt.”

Defendants, a foreclosure law firm representing bank or its servicer, sent Mr. Garland a foreclosure letter. This they cannot (and do not) deny. The first sentence of the body of that letter reads as follows:

Our client, Wells Fargo Home Mortgage Inc., has referred your loan to us for foreclosure and requested that we send this notice.

Dkt. 1, PgID 28. Defendants could hardly argue that a letter that begins by telling the homeowner that his mortgage loan has been referred to the law firm “for foreclosure” is not “in connection with” foreclosure.

According to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, as it held in January 2013, foreclosures are a form of debt collection. Indeed, under that court’s Glazer decision, “any” type of foreclosure is debt collection:

[I]f a purpose of an activity taken in relation to a debt is to “obtain payment” of the debt, the activity is properly considered debt collection. Nothing in this approach prevents mortgage foreclosure activity from constituting debt collection under the Act. In fact, every mortgage foreclosure, judicial or otherwise, is undertaken for the very purpose of obtaining payment on the underlying debt, either by persuasion (i.e., forcing a settlement) or compulsion (i.e., obtaining a judgment of foreclosure, selling the home at auction, and applying the proceeds from the sale to pay down the outstanding debt).

Glazer v. Chase Home Finance LLC, 704 F.3d 453, 464 (2013) (emphasis in original). The court focused on the purpose of the underlying transaction: “a home loan is a “debt” even if it is secured.” Id. at 461. “Accordingly, mortgage foreclosure is debt collection under the FDCPA.” Id. at 64.³

The logic is clear: foreclosure is debt collection, so a foreclosure letter (a communication initiated by a law firm that states that the mortgage loan has been referred to the firm for foreclosure), is a communication “in connection with collection of any debt” under § 1692e. Plenty of courts in this circuit and in this district have seen these letters as subject to § 1692e. See, e.g., Martin v. Trott Law, P.C., 198 F. Supp. 3d 794, 800 (E.D. Mich. 2016) (Lawson, J.) (where “[e]ach letter stated that the Trott firm was retained by the entity identified as the creditor or loan servicer ‘to foreclose the mortgage’ described in the letter”); Walker v. Fabrizio & Brook, P.C., No. 17-11034, 2017 WL 5068340, at *5 (E.D. Mich. Nov. 2, 2017) (Roberts, J.); Thompke v. Fabrizio & Brook, P.C., 261 F. Supp. 3d 798, 810 (E.D. Mich. 2017) (Lawson, J.).

That should be the end of the discussion, but Defendants have a fresh argument: “there is nothing in the Orlans PC Foreclosure letter to suggest that its animating purpose was to induce payment. It makes no demand for payment, no reference to a payment due date, and no threat of a penalty for nonpayment.” Br. in Supp. at 23. Defendants then latch onto “animating purpose” case law that addresses truly grey areas (unlike this case) about how to interpret certain communications between debt collectors and debtors (especially communications initiated by the debtor herself). Defendants are wrong.

First, these arguments have already been rejected by Glazer: since foreclosure is an attempt to collect a debt, any communication that facilitates the foreclosure (like announcing it) is in connection with an attempt to collect debt. And second, the Garland letter also announces, in large type at the top: “THIS IS AN ATTEMPT TO COLLECT A DEBT” As the Thompke court noted, such language alone indicates that a communication is covered by § 1692e:

There is plenty about the foreclosure notice that would permit the conclusion that its “animating purpose” was “to induce payment.” For one, it led off with the statement, “AS A DEBT COLLECTOR, WE ARE ATTEMPTING TO COLLECT A DEBT.”

Thompke, 261 F. Supp. 3d at 810.

Defendants attempt to hang their hat on Grden v. Leikin Ingber & Winters PC, 643 F.3d 169, 173 (6th Cir. 2011), but that case is readily distinguishable. Most importantly, it’s not a mortgage case—much less a foreclosure case—and so is not subject to Glazer’s broad conclusion that “any” foreclosure is debt collection. Moreover, the at-issue communication in Grden was a ledger sent in response to an inquiry by the debtor. These “statements were merely a ministerial response to a debtor inquiry, rather than part of a strategy to make payment more likely.” 643

F.3d at 173. There is no suggestion that Mr. Garland initiated Orlans PC's foreclosure letter to him.⁴

Defendants also argue that the Garland letter had other purposes than to advance his foreclosure. But they posit a false dichotomy; there can be more than one purpose to a debt communication. Estep v. Manley Deas Kochalski, LLC, 552 F. App'x 502, 505 (6th Cir. 2014) (“[W]e emphasize that there can be more than one purpose behind a communication.”) (citing cases).

For these reasons, the letter Mr. Garland received is, under the FDCPA, an attempt to collect a debt and subject to § 1692e.

II. THIS COURT SHOULD NOT DECLINE TO EXERCISE ITS ACKNOWLEDGED SUPPLEMENTAL JURISDICTION OVER THE RCPA CLAIM.

Defendants spend nine of their 25 pages of argument (about one-third) asking this Court to exercise its discretion not to exercise its supplemental jurisdiction over the RCPA claim.⁵ Motion at 11-20. Nowhere do they argue that this Court does not have supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' RCPA claim.⁶ And for good reason.

⁴ Defendants also rely on two Massachusetts district court cases, but nowhere reveal whether at the time of those decisions the First Circuit had pronounced “all” foreclosures to be debt collection.

⁶Also, wholly absent from Defendants' brief is any citation to this very Court's resolution of this very issue in a prior class action against this very Defendant. Baltierra v. Orlans Assocs. PC, Case No. 15-10008, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 136720

“The district courts shall have supplemental jurisdiction over all other claims that are so related to claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution.” 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a). “In other words, if there is some basis for original jurisdiction, the default assumption is that the court will exercise supplemental jurisdiction over all related claims.”

Blakeley v. United States, 276 F.3d 853, 861 (6th Cir. 2002) (emphasis added; citations omitted). There is no doubt that the FDCPA claims and the RCPA claims in this case are part of the same case and controversy; they arise out of precisely the same facts: the Orleans Foreclosure Letters.

Contrary to Defendants’ argument, the RCPA claim does not “substantially predominate” over the FDCPA claim in the sense used in the supplemental jurisdiction statute, 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c)(2). The same depositions and same written discovery will be required to develop each claim. The focus will be on Defendants’ conduct, e.g., the degree and character of the review of foreclosure letters by Orleans PC attorneys; the degree and character of involvement of the individual defendants; the availability of any common defenses. See Kistner v. Law Offices of Michael P. Margelefsky, LLC, 518 F.3d 433, 438 et seq. (6th Cir. 2008) (describing nature of attorney letterhead claims, and reinstating both FDCPA and state law claims). The two claims will be tried at the same time, with the same witnesses and the same proofs.

While Defendant cites other cases where courts have declined to exercise jurisdiction of a related state law claim, this occurs most frequently when the federal claim has been dismissed. As set forth above, the complaint here properly states an FDCPA attorney letterhead claim under Glazer and Kistner.

Defendants exaggerate supposed differences between the RCPA and the FDCPA. But a panel of the Sixth Circuit has accurately described the FDCP as “[a] parallel federal statute” to the RCPA, and further noted that “[t]he FDCPA contains language that is very similar to that found in the [RCPA].” Gamby v. Equifax Information Services LLC, No. 10-1152, 462 Fed. Appx. 552, 555 & n. 5, 2012 U.S. App. LEXIS 3061, at *9 (6th Cir. Feb. 14, 2012) (holding that the RCPA, like the FDCPA, is a strict liability statute).

Moreover, federal courts in Michigan and elsewhere frequently exercise supplemental jurisdiction over state law fair debt collection claims (including RCPA and virtually identical Michigan Occupational Code debt collection agency claims) joined with FDCPA claims. See, e.g., Durham v. Schneiderman & Schneiderman, P.C., Case No. 16-11326 (Jan. 11, 2017) (Tarnow, J.) (citing cases) (exhibit B, attached). The Court in Durham rejected similar arguments to those advanced here, stating:

[T]here is very little to suggest that the jury would be confused by the inclusion of the federal and state claims, especially since RCPA and FDCPA have been found to have extremely similar standards and have been considered simultaneously by courts in the past.

Id., slip op. at 4 (emphasis added). See also, Baltierra v. Orlans Assocs. PC, Case No. 15-10008, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 136720 (E.D. Mich. Oct. 7, 2015) (Hood, J.) (refusing to decline supplemental jurisdiction over RCPA claim joined with FDCPA claim); Shoup v. Illiana Recovery Sys., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 4454, *6-9 (W.D. Mich. Mar. 27, 2001) (refusing to decline supplemental jurisdiction over similar Michigan Occupational Code (“MOC”) debt collector claims joined with FDCPA claim, finding “the resolution of those issues are in the main straightforward and commonplace such that the State of Michigan does not have a large interest in separately resolving those issues”). See also, Eager v. Credit Bureau Collection Servs., 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 150033 (W.D. Mich. Oct. 18, 2013) (in case joining MOC debt collection claim with FDCPA claims, finding “neither the [MOC] claims, nor Defendants’ defenses, complex or novel under § 1367(c)(1)”) (Quist, J.); Rogers v. RBC Mortg. Co., Case No. 11-11167, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 88517, at *12-13 (E.D. Mich. Aug. 10, 2011) (retaining supplemental jurisdiction over related state foreclosure law claims); Newman v. Checkrite Cal., 912 F. Supp. 1354, 1373-1374 (E.D. Cal. 1995) (refusing to decline supplemental jurisdiction of state law claim in FDCPA action).

Defendants points to the fact that MCR 3.502(A)(5) does not permit a class action in state court for statutory damages unless expressly authorized by statute, and pleads “comity.” Br. in Sup. at 16. However, this argument actually contradicts the logic of the Supreme Court’s holding in Shady Grove Orthopedic Assocs., P.A. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 559 U.S. 393 (2010), which rejected a similar comity argument. See id. at 451 (Ginsberg, J., dissenting on comity grounds). It also contradicts the Sixth Circuit’s teaching that “if there is some basis for original jurisdiction, the default assumption is that the court will exercise supplemental jurisdiction over all related claims.” Blakeley, supra, at 861. In consideration of all pertinent factors, this Court should not decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the RCPA claim.

Defendants rely on Graves v. Malone, Case No. 17-12227, 2017 WL 4120105 (E.D. Mich. Sept. 18, 2017 (Cleland, J.)), a recent case involving entirely different types of claims (§1983 police brutality and common law tort claims involving the gruesome shooting of a man found to be insane). To the extent Graves bears on this case, it undermines Defendants’ argument. The Graves court held, under 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c)(2), that a state claim predominates when it “raise[s] problems, including the need to introduce evidence inapplicable to—indeed, inconsistent with—the evidence relevant to the federal claims, the presence of disparate legal theories on both claims and defenses, and the need to create expanded and contradictory jury instructions.” Id. at *4 (emphasis added). There is no inconsistency or contradiction between the FDCPA and RCPA claims in the instant case, as Judge Tarnow determined in Durham and as found in the other cases cited therein. As Gamby held, the two statutes are “parallel.”

III. THIS COURT HAS ORIGINAL JURISDICTION UNDER CAFA.

Defendants have launched a factual challenge to the complaint’s jurisdictional facts.

When facts presented to the district court give rise to a factual controversy, the district court must therefore weigh the conflicting evidence to arrive at the factual predicate that subject matter jurisdiction exists or does not exist. [A] trial court has wide discretion to allow affidavits, documents and even a limited evidentiary hearing to resolve disputed jurisdictional facts.

Ohio Nat’l Life Ins. Co. v. United States, 922 F.2d 320, 325 (6th Cir. 1990) (citing cases).

A. The Class Action Complaint Adequately Alleges CAFA Jurisdictional Facts.

1. “Orlans PC Foreclosure Letter” encompasses all form Orlans foreclosure letters sent in foreclosure-by-advertisement proceedings.

As detailed in the Background section above, the complaint cast a wide net describing the form Orlans PC foreclosure letters that form the bases for the class claims. These foreclosure letters are on the firm’s letterhead, are unsigned, appear to be from an attorney, identify the client of the law firm, and were generated as form letters, albeit sometimes with client-specific boilerplate. Cmpl. ¶¶ 41, 51, 54.

2. Public notices indicate that Orlans PC sent at least 40,000 “Orlans PC Foreclosure Letters” over the Class Period.

As detailed in the Background section of this brief, and supported by the attached McGuinness Declaration and submitted list of 40,500 foreclosure by advertisement properties since April 2011, Plaintiff has demonstrated a sufficient factual basis for this Court to conclude that there are likely at least 22,495 class members in the class. McGuinness Decl. Exh. 1-A, attached. The number is likely well over 60,000, and certainly over 40,000, based upon the public data submitted. Because each class member has a $200 claim against Defendants, the $5 million CAFA threshold is easily satisfied.

B. The Declaration of Scott Orlando Is Without Adequate Foundation, and Should Be Disregarded Or Given No Weight.

To attempt to raise doubt about this Court’s original jurisdiction under CAFA based upon the jurisdictional threshold, Defendants have submitted the Declaration of Scott Orlando, claiming that less than 18,000 letters were sent. But the Orlando Declaration does not withstand scrutiny.

First of all, who is Scott Orlando? Is he an employee of Orland PC? Or is he a “testifier” brought in to prepare his declaration for the Motion? If he is an employee, what position has he held, and for how long? What are his job responsibilities? Do those responsibilities indicate reliability that he can be expected to have the knowledge, experience, and training to design adequate searches sufficient to quantify the number or qualifying Orlans PC foreclosure letters sent to putative class members? And what, exactly, is a “software architect?”

As importantly, who did formulate the searches? Who decided what databases to search? Who decided what fields to search? Who decided what terms or forms to search/search for? None of this is answered by the Orlando Declaration. We don’t even know from that declaration that Mr. Orlando actually conducted the search he says only that “I make this declaration based on an electronic search of the books and records of Orlans PC.” He doesn’t say who actually did the search, or what their instructions were.

The Orlando Declaration does not even establish a sufficient evidentiary foundation for this Court to ascertain that Mr. Orlando is sufficiently familiar with the “books and records” of Orlando PC to qualify as an exception to the hearsay rule, Fed. R. Evid. 803(6), that otherwise bars its consideration entirely. See, e.g., United States v. Laster, 258 F.3d 525, 529 (6th Cir. 2001). Therefore, this Court should give it little or no weight.⁷

⁷ Shortly after service of the Motion, counsel for Plaintiff called counsel for Defendants and requested an opportunity to depose Mr. Orlando and to serve a limited Rule 30(b)(6) deposition on Orlans PC directed to jurisdictional facts. He followed this oral request up in writing. Orlans PC declined this request.

IV. IF THE COURT DOUBTS ITS ORIGINAL JURISDICTION IT SHOULD DENY THE MOTION WITHOUT PREJUDICE OR TAKE THE CAFA QUESTION UNDER ADVISEMENT.

As demonstrated above, Plaintiffs have pleaded and supported through publicly-available sources their $5 million in controversy allegations in a manner sufficient to support CAFA jurisdiction. However, if this Court believes, notwithstanding the deficiencies in the Orlando Declaration discussed above, that there is an open question on this score, the answer is not to dismiss the RCPA claim (or even to declare a lack of original jurisdiction over it), but rather either to deny this aspect of the Motion without prejudice, or to take it under advisement pending the completion of discovery.

Should facts critical to jurisdiction be in dispute, as oftentimes they are, the court must make appropriate inquiry, and must satisfy itself on authority to entertain the case. The court has considerable leeway in devising procedures in that direction, and may resort to written or live evidence submitted in connection with the motion. The nonmoving party must, however, be afforded an ample opportunity to secure and present evidence relevant to the existence of jurisdiction.

Rogers v. Stratton Indus., Inc., 798 F.2d 913, 918 (6th Cir. 1986) (discussing application of Rule 12(b)(1); emphasis added). See also Sizova v. Nat'l Inst. of Standards & Tech., 282 F.3d 1320 (10th Cir. 2002) (“When a defendant moves to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction, either party should be allowed discovery on the factual issues raised by that motion.”) (citation omitted).

Plaintiff has supplied this Court with sufficient factual information to deny the CAFA amount-in-controversy portion of the Motion outright. However, if the Court feels otherwise, Plaintiff at a minimum is entitled to written discovery of Orlans PC, an individual deposition of Mr. Orlando, and a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition of Orlans PC. These measures should not count against the applicable presumptive limits on Plaintiff's depositions and interrogatories under the Rules.

V. GARLAND HAS "STATUTORY STANDING" UNDER THE RCPA.

The RCPA provides a private cause of action for any "person who suffers injury, loss, or damage . . . by the use of a method, act, or practice in violation of this act." M.C.L. § 445.257(1). Mr. Garland alleges that Defendants violated, inter alia, M.C.L. § 445.252(a), which prohibits "[c]ommunicating with a debtor in a misleading or deceptive manner, such as using the stationery of an attorney. . . unless the regulated person is an attorney." He claims that Defendants made "an inaccurate, misleading, untrue or deceptive statement or claim in a communication to collect a debt." M.C.L. § 445.252(e). Cmpl. ¶¶ 62-65.

Mr. Garland attached his Orlans PC foreclosure letter as Exhibit A to the complaint, which plainly used the "stationary of an attorney." He alleges that he "was confused by the [letter] in that it appeared to be from an attorney, but was not signed by one, and did not identify the full name of an attorney." Cmpl. ¶ 46. He alleges that he was "not certain whether or not [the letter] was from an attorney."

Cmplt. ¶ 47. He further alleges that “[t]he suggestion in the [letter] that it was from an attorney raised [his] anxiety,” and “suggested . . . that an attorney may have conducted an independent investigation and substantive legal review of the circumstances of his account, such that his prospect for avoiding foreclosure were diminished.” Cmplt. ¶¶ 48-49.

These allegations are all that are required to establish Mr. Garland’s standing under the RCPA. Plainly, the direct connection between the letter Orlans PC sent Mr. Garland and his § 445.252 claims satisfies the “by use of a method or practice in violation of this act” part of the equation. That leaves the “suffers injury, loss, or damage” part of § 445.257(1), which is where Defendants focus their fire.

The Motion argues that Mr. Garland has not alleged any “injury, loss, or damage” from the alleged violations. This begs the question: what types of injuries does § 445.252(a) & (e) protect against? We can find the answer in the “parallel” FDCPA case law, which contains a similar proscription against “[t]he false representation or implication . . . that any communication is from an attorney,” 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(3), and also against “any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692e. In federal courts plaintiffs must meet a higher, constitutional threshold under Article III’s “cases and controversies” limitation in order to have standing to bring a claim. As this Court is well aware, part of that threshold requires a showing of an “actual injury” that is “concrete.”

Curiously, Defendants are not arguing that this Court lacks Article III jurisdiction over either Mr. Garlands’ state or federal claims. This may be because courts have repeatedly found that these precise types of claims are sufficiently concrete to allege injury in fact for Article III purposes. See, e.g., Martin v. Trott Law, P.C., 265 F. Supp. 3d 731, 746-49 (E.D. Mich. 2017) (citing cases). But if Mr. Garland has sufficiently alleged a concrete injury for Article III purposes, it stands to reason that he meets the lower threshold for RCPA “statutory” standing purposes, i.e., a violation of his right to be free of a debt collection letter that falsely implied that it was written by a real lawyer, exercising his or her professional legal judgment, based upon a legal analysis of the facts and circumstances of his mortgage loan account.

In short, Mr. Garland had alleged precisely the sort of type of harm that the cited statutes are intended to protect against: confusion and stress relating to false, misleading, or deceptive use of an attorney letterhead. As recently stated in a similar attorney letterhead case in this Court:

In alleging confusion, the Thompkes have channeled the statute. The FDCPA prohibits “[t]he false representation or implication that any individual is an attorney or that any communication is from an attorney.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(3). Similarly, the RCPA prohibits “[c]ommunicating with a debtor in a misleading or deceptive manner, such as using the stationery of an attorney . . . unless the regulated person is an attorney” Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.252(a) (emphasis added). The Thompkes allege that the letters were sent by a non-attorney on Fabrizio’s letterhead. The alleged harm is precisely the injury Congress and the Michigan legislature sought to prevent. Letters that appear to be sent by a law firm give the impression that the law firm is directly involved in the collection process and has therefore formed a professional opinion on the alleged debt. See Nielsen v. Dickerson, 307 F.3d 623, 632 (7th Cir. 2002); see also Clomon v. Jackson, 988 F.2d 1314, 1321 (2d Cir. 1993). Even “[a]n unsophisticated consumer, getting a letter from an ‘attorney,’ knows the price of poker has just gone up.” Avila v. Rubin, 84 F.3d 222, 229 (7th Cir. 1996).

Thompke v. Fabrizio & Brook, P.C., 261 F. Supp. 3d 798, 806 (E.D. Mich. Aug. 14, 2017) (initial emphasis in original; bold emphasis added). See also, Kistner v. Law Offices of Michael Margelesfsky, LLC, 518 F.2d 433, 440 (2008) (reversing dismissal of attorney letterhead claim); Martin v. Trott Law, P.C., 198 F. Supp. 3d 794, 803-04 (E.D. Mich. 2016) (Lawson, J.) (sustaining FDCPA and RCPA attorney letterhead claims based on similar allegations).

Accordingly, Mr. Garland has standing to bring his RCPA claim, and the Motion should be denied in its entirety.

Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff asks this Court to deny the Motion.

Attorneys for Defendants

Counsel for Plaintiff and the Proposed Class

DECLARATION OF ANDREW J. MCGUINNESS IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF'S OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

I, Andrew J. McGuinness, declare:

1. I am one of the attorneys representing Plaintiff Freddie Garland in the above-captioned action.

2. I am experienced in fair debt collection class actions against foreclosure law firms under federal and Michigan law. I am currently lead counsel in such an action in this Court, Martin, et al. vs Trott Law PC and David A. Trott, Case No. 2:15-cv-12838, which has been pending since August 2015.

3. In connection with my work in the Martin v. Trott matter I have become familiar generally with the processing of foreclosures by advertisement by law firms in Michigan, including the requirement that notices of such foreclosures be published in newspapers. I learned that newspapers affiliated with the Detroit Legal News, whose website is www.legalnews.com, frequently publish such notices.

4. The Detroit Legal News' website, at www.legalnews.com/publicnotices, permits members of the public with a subscription to search for foreclosure by advertisement notices in Michigan published between various time periods; to specify a search term in the "law firm" field; and to export the search results to a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet file, which can then be saved to the pdf file using Adobe Acrobat

5. Attached as Exhibit 1 to this Declaration is an Adobe pdf file printout of a listing of all published foreclosure notices in the legalnews.com database with a first published date of April 21, 2011, to May 17, 2018, based on a search performed by me on July 27, 2018, with "Orlans" entered in the "law firm" field.

This printout shows 40,050 such notices, as indicated in the native Excel file that I am unable to file through the Court's ECF system, but which I can supply to the Court by U.S. Mail or perhaps email upon request. I have previously supplied such an Excel file to lead counsel for Defendants, Mr. I.W. Winsten, on August 20, 2018.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct.
